Who We Are

- Casepoint is a U.S. based Software as a Service (SaaS) technology company focused on the engineering field, headquartered in Tysons, Virginia Washington, DC. Metro and Fort has an operational presence based in India.
- Casepoint India (P) has been creating innovative technology over the past twelve years.
- We chose Surat as our base of India operations for two key reasons:
  - One, it offers a higher quality of family living in a rapidly growing town, far compared to other cities in India.
  - Two, our company's U.S. based programs have strong cultural working relationships. They want the opportunity to enrich Gujarat and Surat's community.
- We did this because each of our company principals has strong cultural and family roots in Gujarat and contribute and enrich Gujarat's and Surat's community.
- Casepoint's flagship eDiscovery product is used by many of the world's top law firms, government, public sector institutions.
- Casepoint has mature and well defined processes and methods based on the highest industry standards in software development, from business model to customer service.
